

Ray Richardson

"I have been a keen photographer from a very early age, studying photography in London whilst still in my teens, and becoming part of the 'Camera Club' scene soon after.

Preferring to stay an amateur, I have been able to develop my skills at a leisurely and self motivated pace, creating images that uniquely appeal to me.

In the main, my inspiration is generated by the endless wonder of nature. Birds and landscapes are of particular interest."

rayrich@aapt.net.au

www.photoartsclub.org

